

Press Release

For Immediate Release- January 6, 2010
Jenny Lane, Communications Manager
256.535.4350 ext. 201 or jlane@hsvmuseum.org

Only 22 days left to see

Paintings from the Reign of Victoria!

Plus “Sentimental Lessons for the Ladies” on

Sunday, January 10

Sir Luke Fildes , Applicants for Admission to a Casual Ward

Huntsville, AL – These are the final weeks to see Paintings from the Reign of Victoria at the Huntsville Museum of Art. Soon these amazing works of art will return to their home in London. Each of these magnificent paintings has a story to tell. Visitors can learn the fate of "The Princes in the Tower" or discover the exotic workings of "The Babylonian Marriage Market." The scope and size of these artworks is breath taking! The final day to view this exhibition is Sunday, January 31st. More information at 535-4350 or hsvmuseum.org

Want to know more? Want a professional to give you inside information on the era? Then stop by on Sunday, January 10 for a lecture titled "Sentimental Lessons for the Ladies." Join Dr. David Steward, Associate Professor at the University of Alabama in Huntsville for an intriguing afternoon. The talk starts at 2:00pm and will be held in the Museum's Great Hall. The program is free and open to the public. Regular admission rates apply to view the exhibition.

Sir William Powell Firth, The Railway Station

###