Dynetics announces promotions and new hire in the Contracts Department

HUNTSVILLE, Ala., Jan. 17, 2012 – Three staff members in the Dynetics Contracts Department have recently received promotions, and one new staff member has come on board. Promotions include Sallie Patterson to division manager of contracts, Paul Byrge to contracts manager and Hilary Richards to subcontracts manager. Debbie Williamson is the new purchasing manager.

In her new role as division manager, Patterson will be responsible for directing all operations of the Dynetics Contracts Department. She has more than 27 years' experience serving in management roles in contracts, subcontracts and purchasing management.

Patterson joined Dynetics in March 1998 as purchasing manager and was promoted to subcontracts manager in October 2005 and to contracts manager in May 2009. She has a business administration degree from Athens State University, with a concentration in procurement and acquisition management, and is a member of the National Contract Management Association (NCMA).

As contracts manager, Byrge will handle the day-to-day operations of contract administration. He has more than 20 years of experience in contract, subcontract and purchasing management. Byrge joined Dynetics in October 2005 as purchasing manager, and was promoted to subcontracts and purchasing manager in 2009. He earned a bachelor's degree in economics from Auburn University.

As subcontracts manager, Richards will be responsible for subcontract and property management and administration. Richards joined Dynetics in December 2008 and has a bachelor's degree in international business from Mississippi State University.

Williamson was recently hired as purchasing manager. She will be responsible for procurement management and oversight. She has 20 plus years of progressive purchasing and sales experience.
