Oakwood Presents Aeolians in Benefit for Haiti

Huntsville, Ala. — The Department of Music at Oakwood University will present the Aeolians, in a program of "Songs for Haiti" on Saturday evening, February 20 at 6:00 p.m. at the Oakwood University Church. Special featured guest will be Elder Wintley Phipps, an Oakwood alumnus and pastor of the Palm Bay Seventh-day Adventist Church in Florida. He is also the founder and CEO of the U.S. Dream Academy.

The idea for the program came from the students who are members of the Aeolians. Under the direction of Jason Max Ferdinand, a very moving program is being prepared that will include acting, songs performed in the Creole dialect, and other artistic components to make for an inspiring evening.

It is anticipated that the talent and internationally-known reputation of both Elder Phipps and the Aeolians will contribute to a tremendous fund raising success. A significant portion of the proceeds raised will be donated to the ongoing earthquake relief effort in Haiti. The other portion of funds collected will be directed toward future music ministry projects of the Aeolians around the country and the world.

As this is a fundraising program, a suggested donation $20.
