DECISIVE ANALYTICS Corporation Ranked North America's Top 500 Technology Integrators

ARLINGTON, VA, May 24, 2010-DECISIVE ANALYTICS Corporation has been ranked by Everything Channel as one of North America's top technology integrators. This is the third consecutive year DECISIVE ANALYTICS has been named to the VAR500 list.

The 2010 VAR500 list details the leading producers among technology integrators and technology solution provider organizations in North America. The list's ranking is based on gross worldwide revenue of hardware and software sales, as well as earnings from professional and managed information technology services.

"The VAR 500 is the who's who of the solution provider community," said Kelly Damore, VP, Editorial Director, Everything Channel. "In companies large and small, the VAR 500 are considered integration experts, trusted business advisors and invaluable partners. We are honored to compile this list and represent this audience." The complete listing of the VAR500 can be found online at CRN.com.
