Dynetics Awarded NASA Marshall Space Flight Center Information Technology Services (MITS) Contract

Valued at approximately $335 million, contract will provide services for three NASA sites

HUNTSVILLE, Ala., December 3, 2009 – Dynetics, Inc., a 35-year Huntsville-based leader in engineering, scientific and information technology (IT) solutions, announced today it has been awarded the NASA Marshall Space Flight Center Information Technology Services (MITS) contract valued at approximately $335 million over five years.

Dynetics will be the primary provider of IT planning, development and support services for Marshall Space Flight Center (MSFC) and the National Space Science and Technology Center (NSSTC) in Huntsville, and the Michoud Assembly Facility (MAF) in New Orleans, La. The Dynetics MITS team will manage IT security services; IT planning, policy, architecture and integration; telecommunications services; applications and web services; computing services; and audio visual information services.

“We appreciate the confidence MSFC has shown in Dynetics by selecting us for this important contract,” said Dr. Marc Bendickson, Dynetics CEO. “It expands our presence in the IT market by transitioning approximately 500 IT personnel at Marshall to Dynetics’ team; and furthermore, it is an affirmation of Dynetics’ success in managing complex federal programs.”

The Dynetics Team

The Dynetics team has a history of award-winning innovative support to NASA in all areas of the MITS contract. The Dynetics team includes CIBER, Inc.; Freedom Information Systems, Inc.; MacAulay-Brown, Inc./Gray Research, Inc.; and MEI Technologies, Inc.
